Notes

HUSBAND - Charles Harris

Ancestor of Belva Harris Cauthen (Mrs. Nelson R. Cauthen, Jr.), Canton, Mississippi.

Charles HARRIS was a veteran of the War of 1812.

1850 Census of District 6, Itawamba Co., Mississippi, enumerated Sept. 18, p. 327, 338/364, next door to sons

Ransom B. and Cannon on either side of him:

Charles Harris	65	M	White	Farmer	Va	born about 1785
Amanda Dozier	20	F	Mulatto		Ga

WIFE - Jane Cannon

Ancestor of Belva Harris Cauthen, Canton, MS; belvacauthen@yahoo.com.

According to Mrs. Cauthen, in 1872 Jane (CANNON) HARRIS obtained a War of 1812 Widow's Pension because of her husband's service. She was aged 84 then.

She did not have a record of their marriage, so she obtained affidavits from Nancy PRICE, age 84, and John C. PRICE, age 73, who lived in Haralson Co., GA, in 1872. Nancy Price attested that she had attended the actual ceremony about 1807, and John C. Price said he had lived in the same [Pendleton District, SC] neighborhood and knew they were married.

Mrs. Cauthen's research leads her to believe that Jane Cannon Harris was a daughter of Richard Cannon, who died in Habersham, GA.

Mrs. Jane Harris

One Hundred and One Years Old.

Mrs. Jane Harris, (the widow of Charles Harris) formerly of this county, now of Haralson county, residing with her son-in-law, Mr. S. Gann, Sr., is one hundred and one years old [b c1783]. She is the mother, grand mother, great-grand-mother and great-great grandmother of near four hundred descendents. She never had but one husband. He was a soldier in the war of 1812, in consequence of which she now obtains a pension of $96.00 per annum from the national government. She has been a consistent member of the Primitive Baptist church for eighty years, and says if it was possible for her to live she will be a member eighty years more. She tells some very interesting and laughable stories about her visits among her friendly Indian neighbors, while they were in this country [sic – county is probably meant here], one of which is that they would all seat themselves around a pot of soup and a large wooden spoon was passed around, each in turn taking and drinking a spoonful of soup from the pot. Occasionally Skee-nah (the dog) would intrude and receive a stroke on the head with a spoon. The dexterous use of the spoon caused the soup to decrease in quantity very fast, until all appetites were completely satisfied, at which time Shee-nah [Skee-hah?] was permitted to come forward and satisfy his taste according to the demands of his stomach. Her (Mrs. Harris) acquaintance among the continental soldiers who had served in the Revolutionary war, was considerable; but they are all gone now, no one left to tell the hardships endured in those days which tested the hearts of patriots, whigs, traitors or tories. She was born in Pendleton District, S.C., from which place her husband went to the war of 1812.

Our townsman, Mr. F. M. Gann, is her grand son. He has been a resident of this county for forty years. G.
